

Outstanding Salesperson Wanted

How would you like to join the sales team of an expanding, aggressive technology company doing business in West Michigan? If you describe yourself as super motivated, organized, and passionate about sales and prospecting, then Springthrough Technology has a place for you on our team.

We are looking for someone with remarkable sales and prospecting skills. Your sales style will be relaxed and friendly. You would describe yourself as a self-starter, charming and enthusiastic. You would be persistent, conscientious, team oriented, and have a methodical approach to work. If you have experience and success in selling products/services in face to face situations to companies, this is an excellent opportunity for you!

This is a full time sales position with the potential to earn between $50 and $120K per year. The position offers a base salary, benefits, and great incentives for results.

If this position sounds like you and you are ready for a new challenge, please submit your resume on-line.
